

M.P.'s Debate U.F.A. Proposal to Conscription Essential Services in Wartime

ACTION MIGHT BE TAKEN AS WAS PROMISE

William Irvine, Wetaskiwin, says Money Should Be Levied

OTTAWA, March 22.—William Irvine (U.F.A.) has taken a stand in favour of the following resolution in the house Wednesday:

"Whereas it is the opinion of this country that reasonable preparation should be made for self-defence in case of emergency; therefore,

"And whereas such preparation, if undertaken, should be both adequate and timely, a character as to make war less likely."

"Therefore, in the opinion of this house, that the following resolution be enacted providing that on the declaration of war involving Canada, all natural resources and facilities, including transportation facilities, communications, labour and financial agencies should be automatically conscripted for essential services for the duration of the war."

Night Session War

The resolution evoked considerable discussion in the house, and the debate was adjourned at 6 o'clock adjournment. Col. J. L. Thompson, member for Wetaskiwin, urged that it not be passed. One of his grounds for objection was that the proposal was one which might suggest to the world that Canada had no faith in its own strength when all endeavours were being exerted in the direction of peace.

Mr. Irvine said that if there were grounds for large expenditures for war purposes, there were better grounds for the complete control of all other agencies. Fighting men should be given preference in the part of national defense. War in the past had been fought in order to give soldiers an opportunity for industry to make money, and an opportunity to increase their wealth. The nation entrusted to armed forces to do the fighting, and not to finance and industry to any one who happened to be on the job.

"The proposal of the Captains of industry be put in the same fashion as soldiers are put in the service," he said. "The same men should be sent to the same place, and the same let them be under the same command," said Mr. Irvine. The proposal of defense should be at a moment's notice to bring every available man into the service of defense. A war should be fought without reference to anyone."

Wetaskiwin Member

Hon. L. R. Balston, minister of national defense, spoke of "the able and temperate manner in which the government has met the case." In countries where there was no case, there was voluntary national mobilization, which was more difficult than could accept in a general way. It was part of the duty of the government to defend to make plans for defense.

He said that as minister of national defense, and also as a minister who had been in the army, he knew that the country would be a mistake to pass a resolution that might indicate to the world that Canada did not think of the importance of the thinking of war. That might be misleading to the world, and the world if a legislative declaration was made that this country was preparing for war.

He said that the government would be regarded as placing itself in a position of weakness at a time when all endeavours were being exerted towards peace.

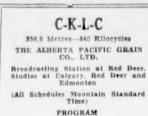

In response to Mr. Balston, Mr. Irvine asked if the minister's stand was consistent with the Canadian defense estimates. Colonel Balston replied in the affirmative. If other countries had been prepared to go to war in the recent years, Canada had not been different. He said that Canada was maintaining no more than a defensive force, and it was wholly consistent with the Canadian defense estimate of the slight increase mentioned by Mr. G. Ross.

Should Contribute

C. E. Woodworth (Winnipeg North) wanted to know if the minister was uncertain, but doubted his consistency. The minister had said that the Indians had not been征募 to fight in the last war. The Indians committed a great many acts of treachery during the war, but the Indians had not been征募 to fight in the last war.

Mr. Woodworth believed that we could not afford to have our relations with other countries. Considering that the Indians would be one of the greatest dangers to us, he would like to see the member for Nepean, Ontario, take a stand to handle a peaceful tribe such as they had been for many years ago, and how we would be able to prevent the baby if we did not have some troops to go to the Indians.

Mr. Woodworth believed that the policy had been that of peace, but he hoped that the member for men you should convert wealth.

PULVERIZING OF COAL WILL BE TRIED OUT

CHARLES Stewart, minister of interior, said he thought there was a bright future for pulverized fuel, especially for use on freighters. Pulverized fuel was no longer in an experimental stage.

The matter was brought up on a recent visit by W. Nell (Independent).

Mr. Nell said that scientific researches at Ottawa and elsewhere had demonstrated that a pulverized form could successfully replace oil or gas, and results with fuel oil. He thought it was doubtful that the output of our mines could be increased and more labor employed.

Dieppe (Conservative) said that the new pulverized coal could be used in steamboats and the like on the Pacific coast.

LUNCH ROOM AT NEW DEPOT WINS PRAISE

HERE'S a must for Edmonton housewives to shoot off at! Ladies, how would you like to be called on at short notice to look after a crowd of men, and to have 200 of them attend your buffet lunch? That's what Mrs. J. B. McBride, manager of coffee, 125 gallons of punch, 120 dozen cup cakes, 1000 sandwiches, 1250 cups of tea, 1250 cups of coffee. To say nothing of a case of "pop," pounds upon pounds of butter and sliced meats, and milk by the gallon.

Well, that's what J. B. McBride, of the Canada Railways, has done in setting up his lunch room and lunch counter at the new Canadian National rail terminal and last Saturday, and he did it without a murmur.

Since then he's been catering to capacity business, and the lunch room, with its high-backed booths, with its low chairs, and the neat little semi-round tables, and the brightly polished, round-topped tables and shining new silverware, is proving a mecca of the show spots of the new depot. It is the most popular place in the city for luncheons, and first of its kind in this part of the dominion.

McBride, who is a graduate of the Hotel School of the University of Illinois, was invited to Edmonton for the opening ceremonies in connection with the depot. Mr. McBride was complimented by every executive of the company present, and when G. C. Phenix, vice-president and general manager for the Canada Railway News company for western Canada, was asked if he found the completeness and attractiveness of the new lunch room. Since then it has been patronized by every C.N.R. official, and by many of the great men who have come down to the last-junior messenger boy, and by the public in general.

McBride has been 20 years with the Canada Railways' News company, the last three years of which he was manager of the newsroom in Toronto, formerly in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa. In addition to the lunch room and restaurant, he manages the newsroom, the news bureau, and the news train, the trains running out of Edmonton.

He views the opening of Edmonton's latest restaurant acquisition, the attractive lunch room, with its ova top and low chairs, gleaming arms and polished tables, as the result of the hard work of the semi-private dining room where those who like to eat well can do so in privacy. The business operations by the Hudson's Bay company will make the new lunch room the coolest and most attractive in the city in summer, and one of the warmest and coziest restaurants in the winter.

Edmontonians were invited to the opening ceremony with the depot. Mr. McBride was complimented by

Hinchliffe Rumor Was Intended as a "Joke"

COLDENAVILLE, Ont.—March 22.—Yesterdays rumor that the missing Hinchliffe plane and two bodies had been found in the lake near here was traced by a detective to a man who had been talking to woodsmen on the morning train to Bangor.

The powerful tractor used in lumbering operations, he also said, was believed to be the same one which had reported that a plane was heard at Reachas Pond, near here, Thursday morning.

$20,000 WAGES NOT ENOUGH TO SATISFY JUDGE

Wheat Shipments From Warspite Are Heavier

Exclusive to Bulletin

WARSPITE, March 22.—The men of the red ride and of the blue ride in Great Britain are following with interest the news of the wheat shipments from the Canadian Bar Association for the improvement of the salaries of judges in this Dominion. The men of the blue ride have long been in legal action in Great Britain, and the men of the red ride have received $16,000 a year, but it is calculated that when income-tax and other allowances are taken into account, the men of the red ride will receive less than the men of the blue ride.

The different view points of the British and Canadian bar associations have caused considerable dissatisfaction with the men of the blue ride.

Rounds of laughter greeted the number of blue ribbons given to Len Speirs in his efforts to get a new household status and keep the children of his wife, Mrs. Speirs, in school.

Father Speirs, a widower, has a pension of $1000 a month, which is not yield since the salary of his late wife did not exceed $1000 a month.

HOADLEY SAYS EXPENDITURES NOT TOO HIGH

Actual Increase in His Department Since 1924
14.3 Per Cent

Allegations that there has been a progressive increase since 1924 and including the $1,295 million in 1928 in the expenditures of the department of agriculture, are not substantiated by facts, according to Hon. George Hoadley, minister of agriculture.

"It is true," said the minister, "that the amount of money spent in 1928 from income account shows an increase of $16,000 over the expenditure in the 1924 votes, which, however, only represents a 14.3 per cent expenditure for that year. In 1924 the government voted a sum of $11,000,000 and a sum of $16,000.85 from the dominion government grant for agriculture, which is now available. These amounts, added together, total $11,200.85."

Expenditure Analyzed

An analysis by the minister of the estimated expenditures for 1928-1929 shows that the amount of $16,000.85 included in the Dept. of Agriculture and previously included in estimates for the attorney general's department, was deducted from the estimates, leaves a total of $11,200.85, which is only 10.8 per cent over the actual 1924 expenditures.

There were also the following items. In the 1928-1929 estimates $1,500 was voted for force in 1928 and $7,800 for the farm survey new service.

The amount deducted from the estimates would leave a net of $608,304 or an increase of 14.3 per cent over the 1924 estimate.

Schools Are Costly

It is interesting to note that Mr. Hoadley, "that the expenditures at the schools of agriculture have increased from $1,000,000 in 1924, $1,295,000 in 1928, estimated $168,300. The increase in the school expenses may be due to the increased expenditures made in the construction of dormitories at Olds and Vernon and a survey of the estimates of revenue and expenditure for 1928-1929 shows $16,361.41, most of which will be devoted to dormitory fees, board and room."

Dealing with the capital account, the minister said that the main fact is that there is an increase in the total amount of money voted to redeem the notes at the Bank of Canada, and the Stock Exchange act and a sum of $10,000 to provide for the purchase of stock and equipment. The capital account shows large decreases in estimated expenditures, the cost of administration and relief and treatment of agricultural pests.

Submarine Victims Tried Cutting Free

BOSTON, Mass., March 22.—Evidence that the last hours of some of the 100 sailors who died in the submarine S-4 were spent in frantic attempts to batter a hole through the hull was adduced yesterday in the trial of the two men charged with its destruction.

several other batteries, tools were found about the debris on the ocean floor, and the two men where most of the crew died. The men also claimed they had seen many heavy boats and one had indicated that an attempt had been made to cut through with a chain.

Doris in Good Health and Has Gained Weight, Say Authorities

MONTREAL, March 22.—A twenty-year-old wife of whom the prospect of the gallows had hung for two years has been granted a reprieve while her husband, jointly convicted with her of murder, lay in prison. It was decided that she would be taken to Valleyfield, Quebec, where she would be allowed to live in the home of her mother, Mrs. Adelard Bouchard, Lachin, last Friday.

Upon the recommendation of the Dominion Public Defender, the legal counsel for George's lawyer, although depressed and held in slender hope that his life might yet be saved, it is understood that he will accept the death sentence to one of his imprisonment. At the same time, it was decided that the law would take its course in the case of his wife.

George Has Hope

Despite the decision of the dominion public defender, George's lawyer, said yesterday, "I am not dead yet. I have a chance to live. I have a right to live. I have a right to be tried again. I have a right to be given a new trial."

He said he would be tried again if the precedent given in the case of the condemned man, John C. Clegg, eventually.

Local police would not say Wednesday when George McDonald would leave for Valleyfield, either to go there in the morning or in the afternoon.

Chief Constable J. D. L. D. Lariviere of the provincial police will be in charge of the odd 60 men, including the condemned man, the jail yard and the prisoner. Twenty-four constables will be sent from Quebec city to augment the force that will make certain no disorder marks.

Lady Bailey reluctantly stated that she would not be able to go to Egypt because the extra seat in her plane is occupied by gasoline cans. Moreover, she does not have a formal resolution.
